Vandenberg Demands Candor In Red Dealings

FATE OF UNO SAID TO HINGE ON PLAIN TALK

Senator Says Soviet Envoys Deliberately "Bait" Other Powers In Talks

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, R., Mich., demanded today that the United States and Russia speak plainly and honestly to each other in the interest of world peace.

Reporting to the senate on his recent assignment as a delegate to the first United Nations assembly in London Vandenberg appraised its achievements as generally wholesome and encouraging if not perfect.

But, he warned, the future of the whole enterprise depends upon mutual understanding between the United States and Russia.

Ideologies Conflict

He said the two nations with their conflicting ideologies of democracy and Communism could live in reasonable harmony only if there were honesty and frankness on both sides.

The United States, he said, should match Russian bluntness and vigor. And Russia, he added, should quit posing for the minds of other nations the continual questions "what is Russia up to now?"

That question arose at London, Vandenberg reported. It still prevails, he said, in regard to Manchuria, Eastern Europe and the Dardanelles, Iran, Tripolitania, the Baltic and the Balkans, Poland and Japan, and in Canada and even the United States.

The ranking Republican of the senate foreign relations committee had high praise for the achievements of the first UNO session and reiterated his hopes for success of the new world organization.

The enthusiasm of his speech was tempered, however, by references to the conflicts created by the Russian attitude on so many of the troublesome questions.

Red Sincerity Questioned
At one point, Vandenberg confessed the Russian attitude on the particularly ticklish issue of British and French troops in Lebanon and Syria made him suspect the sincerity of Russia's search for peace.

Vandenberg told the story in detail to illustrate his point. He told how Lebanon and Syria demanded the simultaneous withdrawal of British and French troops. He said an amicable settlement seemed in sight until the Russian delegate intervened.

Vandenberg accused the Russian delegate of pouring salt in open wounds and needlessly prolonging debate with "unwarranted rebukes" to Britain and France.

Despite it all, Vandenberg gave Britain and France credit for voluntarily accepting terms of an American proposal for negotiation which Russia defeated by exercise of her "veto" power.

Fears for Father

In a press interview at a New York hotel, Egon L. Hanfstaengl, above, 25, former U. S. Army lieutenant, expressed fears for the life of his father, Ernst (Putzi) Hanfstaengl, once Hitler's favorite pianist. The elder Hanfstaengl is now in London awaiting repatriation back to the country where he fears he will be assassinated, according to his son. An appeal has been filed to the U. S. embassy in London asking that a visa be granted to permit him to come to the U. S.

FRANCO RUMORS IRK SPELLMAN

Spanish Trip Has No Political Inference, New Cardinal Re-Emphasizes

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 27.—Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York, obviously irritated by rumors and speculation over his projected visit to Spain, re-emphasized last night that the trip would be "wholly without political implication."

He denied radio reports that he would carry a papal letter to Generalissimo Francisco Franco.

Denies Franco Message
"I have no message to Franco and I will be carrying no message from anyone," he replied to a question at a press conference.

Any G. I. In Civilian Suit Just Ain't A Bartender!

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Put a G. I. in a civilian suit, shake him, and what have you got? John C. Fitzgerald doesn't know for sure, but he says it ain't no bartender.

Fitzgerald has been running his Bartenders School Inc., on 49th St. just off Broadway, for 13 years now. He has graduated 5,500 students, including the head bartender at Toots Shor's, so he speaks with the authority of super-maestro.

"The trouble, is they get it for nothing," Fitzgerald said. "I mean this G. I. bill of rights—the government chips in and helps them pay. So they get it for nothing, and they don't pay much attention. They expect me to do all the work."

Fitzgerald, sometimes called "professor," gives a three-weeks course for $50. Each pupil attends one hour a day, five days a week.

"We don't repeat anything," he said. "I lay it on the line, I show them how it's done, and it's up to them to learn it."

The school features 60 different mixed drinks, with such stand-bys as martinis, old-fashioned, and manhattans high on the list.

FRANCE WANTS JOINT BOYCOTT AGAINST SPAIN

Asks U. S. And Britain To Join Break After Franco Halts Bridge Traffic

BULLETIN

PARIS, Feb. 27.—France is sending new proposals to the United States and Great Britain today urging a joint break in relations with the Franco regime of Spain by the three allied nations.

PARIS, Feb. 27.—Spain replied today to the French decision closing the French-Spanish frontier on March 1 by halting all traffic across the international bridge at Hendaye, virtually shutting the border two days before the French deadline.

Ready To Close Frontier
(A Madrid dispatch said information reported the Spanish government had closed or would close at any hour the frontier with France, without waiting for the March 1 action by the French.)

French railway union men at Hendaye, on the French side of the bridge, also hastened the break by preventing movement of merchandise toward Spain.

Dispatches from Hendaye said numerous Spanish army units, mostly Moroccan, had arrived at the frontier.

(A United Press dispatch from Madrid said that approximately 1500 Spanish Moors had been posted along the border in the Pyrenees Mountains.)

Stronger Steps Urged
French left-wing parties urged the government to take even stronger steps against General Francisco Franco's regime by a formal break in diplomatic relations. They urged a worldwide boycott of Spain.

BOMBAY, Feb. 27.—A British communiqué announced that all British troops were being withdrawn from Bombay today and disclosed that some Royal Indian Navy men—presumably ringleaders of the mutiny—have been "segregated."

Reds Seize Machinery, Place Troops On Guard At All Mukden Factories

BY REYNOLDS PACKARD

United Press Staff Correspondent

MUKDEN, Feb. 23.—(Delayed)

—Soviet troops are guarding every important factory in Mukden—even the few operating under nominal control of the Chinese.

Most of the plants, however, are idle. Many are skeleton structures, gutted by wanton fire or stripped of their heavy machinery and then looted again later by petty pilferers of any remaining dribbles of value.

Maj. Gen. Andrei Kovtoun-Stankovich, Russian commander in Mukden, admitted that "some heavy equipment had been shipped to Russia in accordance with a big three agreement" after correspondents had found evidence of factory-stripping.

Both Japanese and Chinese workers told us they had seen the Russians remove machinery and load it on trains headed for the north.

The correspondents saw evidence of the removal when they slipped unofficially into Mukden's largest machine and tool plant—the Manchukuo Osaka Kaisha.

All of the heavy machinery had been removed, reportedly by the Russians and sent to Siberia.

Production in this once great industrial city known as "the Chicago of Manchuria" virtually was at a standstill except for a small output of vodka and cigarettes mostly for Russian consumption.

Of more than 4,000 factories which the Japanese operated full blast during the war turning out automobiles, trucks, locomotives, airplanes, munitions and textiles, only about 20 were operating today.

ARGENTINE BOSS TRAILS IN VOTE

Tamborini Is Leading Peron By Nearly Two To One In Early Returns

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 27.—Dr. Jose Tamborini took a lead of nearly two to one over Col. Juan D. Peron in the Argentine Presidential election today on the first returns from rural precincts.

Partial returns from two northern rural provinces put Tamborini, the Democratic union candidate, off to a substantial lead. Political observers said the returns were too scanty to show a national trend.

Tamborini piled up a lead of 4,177 to Peron's 2,236 in the first 46 ballot boxes counted in the San Luis and San Juan provinces. Returns from the other 12 provinces were expected today.

The newspaper Hoy reported that Peron plans to go to Peru shortly. His passport already has been checked by the Peruvian consulate in Buenos Aires, the newspaper said.

Juan Cooke, Argentine Foreign minister, said in a statement that the Russian commercial mission coming to Argentina may be the first step toward reestablishment of Soviet-Argentine relations. He disclosed that he had invited several Russian newspapermen to watch the Argentine elections, but they declined on the grounds that transport difficulties made the trip impossible.

TAX PAYMENTS ON REAL ESTATE TOTAL $254,148

Real estate tax payments totaled $254,148.69, Wednesday in the office of Pickaway County Treasurer Robert Colville, and he declared that the payment of assessments have been brisk.

The tax duplicate for the first half of 1945, or the anticipated tax collection, amounts to $312,168.77, Treasurer Colville explained.

The collection began Jan. 15 and although the official deadline is 4 p. m. Friday, the treasurer said, several days will be required to check the payments and to handle the mailed remittances. During that interval, Treasurer Colville said, payments will continue to be accepted without imposition of the penalty for delinquency.

JILTED NEWSBOY CAPTURED AFTER KNIFING WOMAN

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 27.—Newsboy Leroy Harris Geiger, 24, who confessed stabbing Mrs. Mary Desparo 22 times after she refused his advances, was apprehended because of his guilty conscience, police said today.

Geiger confessed the murder shortly after Mrs. Desparo's nude body was found in a deserted bus parking lot. Her jaw was broken and there were 21 stab wounds in the left breast and one in the right. Geiger said he met the woman in a skid row bar.

"When she turned me down," he said, "I felt the urge to see blood."

MARTIN PLEADS FOR REDUCTION IN ARMAMENTS

Wants U. S. To Urge All Nations To Abolish Peacetime Draft

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—House Republican leader Joseph W. Martin, Jr., Mass., urged the United States today to use its "great world-wide influence" to get all nations to reduce armaments and abolish peacetime conscription.

"Either the government of the world want peace and do not need the regiments and hardware of war," he said "or we must conclude that they want huge armaments because they expect to use them. In either event, now is the time to find out."

Practical, He Pleads

Martin expressed his views before the house military affairs committee. It is conducting hearings on his resolution to direct the President to seek a world agreement outlawing peacetime military training.

In an apparent reply to President Truman's recent statement that his plan would not work, Martin said:

"I say you will not know how practical it is until you try it and the least it can do is to test the good faith of the world powers."

The Republican leader said he was mentioning armament reduction "because" it may now appear advisable to broaden the scope of (Continued on Page Two)

HUSBAND DENIES FATHERHOOD IN DIVORCE ACTION

Paternity of a two-week-old child born to Mrs. Hazel Burns, 730 S. Scioto street, is denied by her husband, Carl E. Burns, 125 First avenue, in a divorce suit filed here Wednesday.

In his petition, filed in the office of Pickaway County Clerk of Courts Arthur Wilder, Burns claims that he was serving with the Army and was in Germany when the child was conceived. He also contends that his wife has "conducted herself promiscuously with various and divers other men."

Burns asks for a divorce, that the court declare him to be "not the father of the child born Feb. 13, 1946," and that he be relieved of all liability for the support and maintenance of the child.

The petition says the marriage occurred June 24, 1942 in Circleville. Burns also asks for the custody of a two-year-old daughter, Caroline. He charges Mrs. Burns with gross neglect of duty.

Atom Bombs May Reveal Death Ray For Bombers

ROSSELL, N. M., Feb. 27.—The atom bomb which bursts over the Navy's Guinea pig fleet in the Pacific next Spring may put the armed forces on the track of a new weapon—a ray that is death to airplane engines.

It may—but whether it will is one of those things that man, for all his boasted mastery over the atom, cannot predict with certainty.

But the Army Air Forces have an idea. And when Army-Navy task force No. 1 carries out its May 15 atomic bombing of surface ships off Bikini atoll in the Marshalls, the idea as well as the bomb will be put to the test.

A B-29 super-fortress will drop the bomb. But it will be the outmoded B-17, flying by remote control with a crew, which will brave the violence of the atomic cloud to extract its secrets.

SENATE BEHIND CHOICE OF KRUG

Approval For Interior Post Seen Despite Coolness Of Western Bloc

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—The nomination of Julius A. (Cap) Krug as secretary of interior appeared headed for senate approval today despite a notable lack of enthusiasm among western senators.

Many prominent Republicans and Democrats joined in praising the public record of the 38-year-old Wisconsin new dealer who headed the war production board during the final phase of World War II.

Westerners Disappointed
Even among westerners there was acknowledgement of his ability. But they made no effort to hide their disappointment that President Truman didn't pick a man from their own region. They wanted a man with intimate knowledge of the grazing, mining, irrigation and reclamation problems peculiar to the West.

Krug will be questioned on those subjects by the senate public lands committee. Chairman Carl A. Hatch, D., N. M., said the committee (Continued on Page Two)

Ford Signs CIO Contract; Southern Trainmen Call Strike For Saturday

DETROIT STILL MILKLESS

Pay Pattern For Packers Is Expected To Apply In Many Other Fields

The Wage Stabilization Board put its approval on wage increases for the nation's packinghouse and shipbuilding workers today in the first industry-wide application of the new wage-price policy.

A 16 cents an hour boost for AFL and CIO meat workers was expected to be put into effect immediately on the basis of a 1½ per cent price advance allowed by the WSB to help cover higher labor costs to the packers.

Shipbuilders Adamant
Officials in the shipbuilding industry showed no inclination to grant an 18-cent hourly raise for their workers, however, leaving the prolonged wage dispute still unsettled.

In the major walkouts, idling an estimated 789,000 workers: 1. Secretary of Labor Lewis B. Schwellenbach schedule a meeting today with officials of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. to discuss means of averting a nationwide telephone strike, scheduled for March.

2. Engineers and trainmen of the Texas and New Orleans railroad, a branch of the Southern Pacific, were ordered to strike at 9:30 a. m. Saturday.

Ford Contract Signed
3. The Ford Motor Co. and CIO Auto Workers Union signed a contract, providing dismissal penalties for workers participating in unauthorized work stoppages.

4. The U. S. Conciliation Service met with longshoremen union and waterfront employer officials in attempt to head off a strike of 22,000 Pacific coast dockworkers.

5. Government labor officials sought a formula under which striking Detroit milk workers could end their weeklong walkout pending action by federal agencies on the related price and wage questions.

Representatives of the big four meat companies indicated they would comply with a government recommendation for a 16 cents hourly pay boost for some 120,000 workers, although the 1½ per cent increase in meat prices was termed "distinctly inadequate" by the American Meat Institute, spokesman for the packers.

The meat pattern was expected to cover numerous plants of 13 independent companies, whose facilities were seized along with those of the big four during a nationwide meat walkout last month.

The WSB, with industry members dissenting, approved the 18-cent hourly wage increase for shipbuilding workers as recommended by E. A. McMillan, chairman of the government-sponsored national shipbuilding wage conference.

Despite the approval action, the board also adopted a motion stating it was expressing no opinion whether the wage proposal was binding on the parties. If the companies refuse to put the increase into effect, the unions might revert to strike action to enforce compliance.

A brotherhood of railroad trainmen spokesman said at Houston, Tex., yesterday that 3,500 workers would be called off their jobs on the Texas and New Orleans road in support of long standing wage demands. The TN and O runs from El Paso to New Orleans and operates numerous shorter lines in Texas and Louisiana.

Signing of the Ford Motor Co. agreement culminated a month of intensive negotiations that began last Jan. 26, when the company and UAW ended a wage stalemate by agreeing on an 18 per cent (Continued on Page Two) my original resolution which referred to compulsory military service only."

Hearings Concluded

The committee last week concluded hearings on a military training program, but has not yet taken any action.

Martin said he favored a strong army and navy, adequate reserves and an expanded national guard. But he warned that arming of one nation leads to arming of another "until all the nations are armed to the teeth and eventually set upon one another."

This, he said, makes it imperative that attempts be made now to stop such an armaments race.

"We must not simply dub this suggestion as impractical, and leave it untried," Martin said. "It is the one proposal which gives some promise of restoring the world to sanity."

"Surely after the sacrifice of millions of brave American men and women we can do no less."

Calls For Clear Policy

Martin said it was a specific duty of the United Nations organization, as set forth in its charter, to develop a plan for disarmament. Now, he said, let America "bring the United Nations down to bedrock and make it work."

Martin also called for a "clear, definite, dynamic" expression of U. S. foreign policy so American delegates to UNO can speak with "the full authority and influence of this great nation."

If the United States leads a drive to abolish peacetime conscription throughout the world, Martin said, it will take only the agreement of four other nations—Britain, China, France and Russia—to accomplish it. They will agree, he said, if they have sincere desires for peace.

He asked the committee not to look upon his proposal as a political or partisan issue because world peace "is a problem which concerns all Americans."

down as a move responding to the will of the country, but urged that United States and Britain join France in a diplomatic breach.

A fiery crowd of 30,000 lustily sang the Internationale while Franco was hanged in effigy in the Yelodrome D'Hiver last night. They passed a resolution urging a diplomatic break and recognition of the Spanish Republican exile government.

Jacques Duclos, secretary of the French Communist party, told the rally, "soon we will talk of Franco as we talk of Hitler—in the past tense."

Allied Support Stressed

He said that United States and Britain supported France in the fight against Franco. "America has announced that it will publish a book on Franco's role during the war," he said. "We halt this decision as meaning America is with us."

Eugene Henaff, secretary of the Paris trade union federation, told the rally that "if Franco had not received gasoline from the United States he could not have sent tanks and planes against underground fighters in Spain for 12 days."

Henaff also attacked "certain Vatican prelates who are going to make another investigation in Spain, as though there weren't sufficient evidence of Franco's crimes."

Signs of "no more boats or trains for Franco" and a huge portrait of Cristino Garcia, Spanish Republican executed by the Franco government last week after a murder conviction, dominated the hall.

Dolores Ibarruri (La Pasionaria), general secretary of the Spanish Communist party, sent telegrams to Georges Bidault, Ernest Bevin and James F. Byrnes asking intervention in favor of hundreds of Spanish anti-Fascists who, she said, are in danger of execution by Spanish firing squads.

tee would give the cabinet nomination "early consideration."

Hatch was sparing in his own endorsement. When Harold L. Ickes resigned Hatch set up two qualifications for the successor.

The first was that he be a man of outstanding integrity and ability. The second was that he thoroughly familiar with western problems.

Acquaintance Limited
"My acquaintance with Mr. Krug is limited," Hatch said. "From what I know of him he meets the first qualification admirably. But I am afraid he does not possess the knowledge of western affairs which the secretary of interior should have."

The comment of other westerners generally followed that line. Sens. Burton K. Wheeler, D. Mont., and Edwin C. Johnson, D. Colo., said the West would be "disappointed." But there were exceptions.

Sen. Wayne Morse, R. Ore., called Krug a "devoted public servant" who "stands in a class by himself compared to some of the appointments the President has made recently."

Sen. Abe Murdock, D. Utah, said Krug demonstrated "great ability" as WPB chief and that he expected him to give the "same kind of administration in the interior department."

Selection Is Surprise
Senators who gave loud endorsement to the appointment included J. William Fulbright, D. Ark., Claude Pepper, D. Fla., and Theodore G. Bilbo, D. Miss.

Krug's selection came as a complete surprise. Krug never has held an elective office in government although he was drafted several times by the late President Roosevelt for government service.

Mr. Roosevelt used him in the office of production management, the priorities division of WPB and the office of war utilities. He left OWU to take a lieutenant commander's commission in the Navy in 1944.

In August, 1944, he returned to serve as chairman of the war production board, succeeding Donald M. Nelson. When the war ended he folded up WPB and went to New York as a business consultant.

Krug said he was "not altogether surprised" at his nomination.

baiting France and Britain, less interested in peace at this point, then he was in friction," Vandenberg said.

All this, he said, helps emphasize the need for the United States and Russia to achieve mutual understanding, both in and out of the United Nations.

"At the risk of over-simplifying the problem, he suggested that 'the future of the United Nations is wrapped up in this equation'—that the U. S. and Russia can achieve reasonable understanding if:

"1. The United States speaks as plainly upon all occasions as Russia does;

"2. The United States just as vigorously sustains its own purposes and its ideals upon all occasions as Russia does;

Candor Needed

"3. We abandon the miserable fiction, often encouraged by our own fellow travellers, that we somehow jeopardize the peace if our candor is firm as Russia's always is."

"4. We assume a moral leadership which we have too frequently allowed to lapse."

"The situation calls for patience and good will," he said, "but not for vacillation."

There is a limit to compromise—a line beyond which compromise cannot go, Vandenberg asserted. But he said he wouldn't blame Russia for not recognizing that line "unless we re-establish the habit of saying only what we mean and meaning every word we say."

"I have the deep conviction that this way is the dependable way to permanent peace and concord between us, with its inevitable effect upon the United Nations," he added. "Indeed, I have the feeling it is the only way."

"I have the feeling it is the best way to win Soviet respect and Soviet trust. Respect must precede trust, and both are indispensable to peace."

and leave the next day for Portugal. Persistent questions about a possible meeting with Franco caused Spellman to be sharper with newsmen than at any time since he began his trip to Rome.

Asked if he thought his trip to Spain would not have political implications due to the controversial position of the Franco regime, he said:

"There is no more political significance to that than my stops in Ireland and France en route here. I have a right to go where I want to go."

Plans Call At Embassy
He said he would call at the American embassy upon his arrival in Madrid and after that he would be the guest of the bishops of Spain.

He reiterated his previous position that he was accepting all invitations and that he would attend the Spanish dinner, perforce seeing Franco if Franco were present.

John Cardinal Glennon of St. Louis and his eight-man party, who travelled to Rome with Spellman, will skip the Madrid detour. They will go directly to Ireland aboard the plane which brought Edward Cardinal Mooney of Detroit and Samuel Cardinal Stritch of Chicago to Rome.

GIRLS PUT ON PROBATION

Two Circleville girls, one 12 years old and the other, 14, have been placed on one-year probation by Judge Sterling Lamb, of probate court, for stealing two bicycles.

The girls were given suspended sentences of one year in the Girls Industrial School at Delaware.

New "Tip Toe" Shift

De Soto features gyrol fluid drive with a new transmission—"tip toe" shift, which allows the driver to drive all day without touching the gear-shift lever or clutch. This new transmission shifts gears hydraulically, and gives faster get-away in traffic.

New safe-stop hydraulic brakes of an exclusive new design, new smaller wheels of the safety rim-type, larger tires, a new oil pump and a revolutionary self-cleaning gasoline filter are among the many improvements in the car.

Striking New Beauty

De Soto's striking new beauty is highlighted by an entirely new front end. Long, wide-shouldered front fenders flow back into the body, accentuating the long, low lines of the car. A new die-cast grille of wide chromed vertical bars extends across the front of the car, while body, fender and body side moldings of chrome are wider, lower and tapered to follow the body design, adding to the elongated appearance of the car.

Adding to the wide appearance of the car are new headlights, widely spaced to define the outside edge of the car in night driving. They are set above squared parking lights, which have been increased in size.

SHERIFF, POLICE HUNT FUGITIVE FROM COLUMBUS

Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff, his deputies and Circleville police were searching Wednesday for George Bricker, 54-year-old ex-convict and suspected forger who with a companion escaped from the Franklin County jail at Columbus, Tuesday, by sawing bars.

Acting on a tip from Columbus, Sheriff Radcliff and Patrolman Elmer Merriman patrolled State Route 104 and other roads for several miles, late Tuesday afternoon, in a futile hunt for Bricker who reportedly was hitch-hiking south from Columbus. Sam Santangelo, 34, companion of Bricker in the jail break, was recaptured on the outskirts of Columbus Tuesday afternoon.

Sheriff Radcliff said Wednesday that a sharp lookout was being maintained in the hope of apprehending Bricker who it was thought might have headed for Chillicothe.

Bricker has a long prison record. He was released a little more than one year ago from the Ohio Penitentiary where he served a term for forgery.

WILLIAMS A. C. TAKES LEAD IN PLAYOFF SERIES

Columbus Ignition Defeats Eshelman's, 54 To 46 In Preliminary

After trailing for three quarters, Williams A. C. finished strong to win the first game of the playoff series by defeating Roundtown Merchants 42-41.

The Merchants jumped into an early lead, having a 5-1 advantage early in the first period and held a 10-9 lead at the first quarter. The half ended 23-17 in favor of the Merchants.

Merchants Margin Cut
In the third stanza the Williams quintet cut the margin to three points with the Roundtowners having a 36-33 edge as the session ended. In the fourth and final period Williams started the drive that gave them the win.

Holding the first round winners scoreless in the first few minutes of the final quarter, Williams took the lead on two free throws and a field goal to make the count 37-36 and then the Merchants tied it with a free throw. A free toss put Williams back in the lead 38-37 and the Merchants came back to make it 39-38.

Williams A. C. then took a margin of 40-39, and 42-39. With 1 minute and 15 seconds to go, Williams started stalling, but lost the ball with less than a minute to go. The Merchants brought the ball down the floor and scored on a beautiful stripper by Ted Moon from the side of the court to make it 42-41. With less than 35 seconds the Merchants again took possession of the ball and a desperation shot by Walden touched the rafters and was awarded to Williams. C. Gulick was fouled as the game ended and missed his free throw.

Ankrom Paces Attack
"Snapper" Ankrom paced the Williams attack with 18 counters closely followed by Carl Gulick who dumped in 15 in addition to playing a steady defensive game. Russ Gregg, stellar Ashville athlete led the way for the Merchants racking up 13 points before leaving the contest via the foul route.

In the third period. "Chub" Valentine tossed in 12 markers to take second honors. The play of Valentine, Gregg and Nance, both on offense and defense stood out for the Merchants five.

The Roundtowners scored one more field goal than the Williams lads, but cashed in on only two free tosses while the Commercial Point lads sank 10 tosses from the free throw line.

In the preliminary contest between Eshelman Feeds and Columbus Ignition, the local lads went down to defeat by a 54-46 total.

Lead For Eshelman's
Joe Kenney and Johnny Anderson were high scorers for the Eshelman team, garnering 17 and 10 points respectively. The score was close the first quarter with the visiting team holding a one-point margin, 15-14 and the halftime score was 30-22 in favor of the visitors. In the latter part of the contest the superior height and drive paid off for the Ignition quintet as they held a nine-point advantage going into the final period. Eshelman scored 15 points in the fourth quarter and the Columbus team 14.

Baker, diminutive forward, led the Columbus scorers and also was high point man for the evening with 21 points. Cassidy and W. Hutchison came through with 11 and 10 points to help the visitors to victory.

Thursday night the second game of the series will be played and if Williams are the victors they will be the league champions. If Roundtown Merchants win, one more contest will be played.

Preliminary Arranged
The preliminary has been set and will pit Kelly's Bar of Dayton against Columbus Ignition No. 2. Kelly's Bar played here earlier in the season and has a well-balanced organization. Joe Kenney of the local Italy team has been signed to play with the Dayton five. Other stars of the Kelly team are Curt Atkinson, former Indiana all-state star, Tom Ken-

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT
Whereas, God in His infinite wisdom has removed from our midst, one of our faithful and devoted members, Nellie Stofor, and,
Whereas, the wisdom and loyalty which she has exercised in the aid of Majors Temple No. 516, Pythian Sisters, both by service and counsel will be held in grateful remembrance; and,
Whereas, the removal of such a life from our midst leaves a vacancy that will be deeply realized by all the members of the organization, and will prove a loss to the community and to the public as well,

Therefore, Be It Resolved, That in deep sympathy with the relatives and friends of our sister, we express our hope that even so great a loss to us may be overruled for good by Him Who doeth all things well. And, that a copy of this Resolution be recorded upon the Minutes of this Majors Temple No. 516, a copy printed in the local papers and a copy forwarded to the family.

UP AND DOWN BROADWAY

By JACK GAVEN

NEW YORK, Feb. 27, Yesterday was the 100th anniversary of the birth of William Frederick Cody, who became one of the best-known names in American history as Buffalo Bill. It seems only appropriate that a bunch of actors began rehearsing for a show in which he will be a prominent character.

Appropriate because Buffalo Bill was a Broadwayite in his time, half a century and more ago. He was even a stage actor upon occasion, appearing in some gory melodramas that fitted his Indian-fighting background. And the westerner was quite a man-about-town whenever he hit the Broadway of his time.

Of course, he is best remembered as a showman of another type, as the proprietor of the famous Wild West show which bore his name and employed his talents as a performer. The first recollection of a professional entertainment that I have is of the graceful white-bearded old man watering his horse from his ten-gallon hat and shooting at glass balls tossed into the air.

The show in which Buffalo Bill will be impersonated is "Annie Get Your Gun," a musical comedy in which Ethel Merman will play Annie Oakley, the sharpshooter star of Buffalo Bill's show. The production is concerned with Annie's romance with another headliner of the Wild West aggregation. The role of Buffalo Bill is being played by William O'Neal, which probably means that the old plainsman will do a bit of singing since O'Neal is a well known vocalist.

In checking up on Cody I found that Feb. 28 will be the 100th anniversary of Nathan Salsbury, actor and writer, who was Cody's first partner in his Wild West show. Salsbury died in 1902; Cody in Denver, Colo., in 1919.

The Jack Benny program in recent weeks has been featuring a fellow named Artie Auerbach, who does a short bit as the proprietor of a hotdog stand. He seems to be convulsing the country with a little chant that goes, "a pickle in the middle, with the mustard on top." As an old frequenter of carnivals, street fairs and the like, I'd like to point out that this isn't quite the same as it used to be. The one I remember is "with a pickle in the middle and an onion on the top."

However, that last version was applied to hamburgers. Apparently Auerbach's wares consist only of hot dogs, so perhaps he can be excused for substituting mustard, since onion wouldn't set very well atop a frank.

Last Sunday the Benny program introduced a song named after Auerbach's patter and written by John Tackaberry and Carl Sigman. The music firm of Robbins hopes (everyone else fears) that it has a wacky successor to "Marzy Doats" and "The Trolley Song."

The first duty of a President or any other administrator is to pick good men for the job.

The sacred "right to strike" has been carried much too far in this country by arrogant groups.

The new emergency flour is called "mercy bread" and that's a good name for it.

Two Satisfactory Ways to Remove Superfluous Hair

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.
AT the present time, there is no known drug which will permanently get rid of an excessive growth of hair. The only method available for permanent removal of hair seems to be the destruction of the hair root or follicle. Certain preparations known as depilatories which are put on to get rid of the hair, merely remove the hair shaft and do not penetrate deeply enough to destroy the hair root. Thus, they give only temporary relief. However, they are simply used and often may be satisfactory for the time being.

Skin Irritant
On the other hand, some of the preparations may prove very irritating to the skin. According to Dr. Meyer Louis Niedelman of Philadelphia, this irritation may serve to stimulate the growth of hair, and the hair not only becomes coarser, but may also become more resistant to treatment in other ways. Sometimes the hair is removed merely by pulling it out, but this is only a temporary measure also, as the hair rapidly grows in again.

Best Way
According to Dr. Niedelman, the best method of getting rid of superfluous hair is by electrolysis, if done by a skilled operator. This is a form of electrical treatment which generates heat in the tissues. However, electrolysis, that is the use of the electric needle, may also be satisfactory. Recurrence of the hair is less common after electrolysis than after electrocoagulation in the opinion of Dr. Niedelman. This is probably due to the fact that when the electric needle is used it is allowed to remain in contact with the hair root.

A JOB FOR JENNY

by Faith Baldwin

"He told you!"
"We," said Jenny, "have had a talk or two."
Ede was flushed, and not from the heat. She said, "You could keep out of this."
"Could I?" asked Jenny.
Ede groaned and lay back against the crumpled pillows. She said, "It's too darned hot to argue or fight. Steve will be there tomorrow. I suppose. He's always there, when he's free."
Jenny said, "Mary Hathaway's interested in building a hospital for Seahaven."
"I know," said Ede. "I lunched with her after Red Cross last week—" She broke off. "But she can't build a hospital, she can't build a dog kennel... she hasn't a cent of her own, she told me that ages ago."
"She has interested her father. They've even sent for an architect." "Who told you?"
"Justice."
Ede raised her eyebrows. She said, "You are very friendly with him, aren't you?"
Jenny yawned. "Why not? He's my bread and butter."
Ede trumped the pillows. "You've changed," she said crossly. "I don't know what to make of you... I'm beginning to wonder if that might amount to something," she said thoughtfully. "She'd be a wonderful wife for him... she could put him on the top."
"In Seahaven?"
"Naturally not," said Ede. "don't be dumb. In Boston or New York. With her connections, and her father's money—after all, she'll come in for half of it someday—Steve could become a very fancy diagnostician."
"And what about Uncle Bert?" asked Jenny, stonily.
"He could retire," said Ede. "He'd just love that. Jenny said, 'sitting in Steve's penthouse and watching the world go by: the neurotic women, the debutantes with hangers, the gentlemen who are allergic to their wives—' She broke off. Then: "Uncle Bert HAS retired. He doesn't go out at all. A few people see him by appointment and once in a while Steve gets him in as consultant. He can't do more, his heart won't let him. And he hates it... I stopped in Tuesday."

RUFF WINNING CARDS
ORDINARILY it is of course desirable to have an established high card in the dummy which can be led and furnish a discard of a losing card from one of your side suits. But an effective plan for play of the entire hand sometimes includes the deliberate ruffing of that high card. The purpose can be to change the entry situation, or to preserve the length of some other suit so it can be used to make a particular defender take the lead later. Or maybe it might be merely fancy.

At another table, after the bidding given, a snappy declarer, Burr Wilson, made his contract. Taking the heart K lead with the A, he led to the diamond A, finessed the club 10 to the K, watched West cover the heart K, then took the returned spade 2 with the A. Now came the fancy play of leading the set-up heart J and ruffing it with the spade 4, instead of discarding a club. Next he ruffed the club 5 in dummy and led the diamond 2, ruffing with the spade 6.

This, of course, left East one more trump than South. But that didn't bother Mr. Wilson, who had planned it that way. He scored the spade K and raked in the club A and Q, then led his last club, the 8. East had to ruff with his spade 10, and the spade J to the Q made up the last trick. The declarer thus lost only one trick each in hearts and clubs and one to a ruff of a club.

At one table that contract was botched badly enough to go down two tricks. The heart K was led to the A, the diamond Q finessed to the K, the heart 9 was won by the Q, a spade was returned, and the declarer somehow contrived to lose two tricks in clubs plus one in trumps.

Inside WASHINGTON

The Washington Panorama | Capital Too Overwhelming
Beyond Scope of Movies | In Film Maker's Opinion

By HELEN ESSARY
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON—I met a big movie magnate in New York the other day. His name was Joe Pasternak. People say Pasternak is one of the smartest, if not the very smartest, producer in Hollywood—a very genius of a fellow.

We were having cocktails with Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Boomer in their Waldorf Tower apartment when I met Pasternak. Elisa Maxwell was at the little party. So was young Mrs. Pasternak who is pretty enough to eat. She has big blue eyes, soft black hair, exquisite cameo features and a perfect size 12 figure.

We were talking about Washington. I inquired boldly: "Why doesn't Hollywood do a good movie about Washington? There hasn't been a good one yet. Not one that gave the feel of the town. Why don't you undertake to get the real Washington on the screen?"

"And wouldn't I like to," said Pasternak, enthusiastically. "But how can you give anything but a part of Washington? The place is too overwhelming if you take it as a whole."

"There are also some not too pleasant undercurrents 'round about. The public doesn't want to be bothered with those undercurrents. Besides, it shouldn't be given a wrong feeling about its capital. It wants to idealize its public men."

"It isn't our job to debunk Washington. I don't think there is much to debunk. I believe only the best of our government. It's so much better than all the other countries of the world put together that I—I—" Pasternak was about to go sentimental and put a native-born hypocritical Washingtonian to shame.

"When I think of the chance this country has given me and millions like me who have come here to make a living, why there aren't enough words to tell my gratitude," he added.

● PUTTING WASHINGTON ON THE SCREEN or on paper is indeed a baffling job for the expert or the novice. My old friend, Olive Clapper, has done mightily well with her new book, "Washington Tapestry," in giving a picture of the capital and the people who make its intricate wheels click or jam.

"Washington Tapestry" is a collection of anecdotes and incidents recorded and remembered by Mrs. Clapper and her late husband, Raymond Clapper, the journalist and commentator. It is a sort of running story of the Washington scene from the days of Woodrow Wilson through the Coolidge, Harding, Hoover and Roosevelt eras. It takes America into and out of World Wars I and II through the struggles of labor and capital. It introduces to its readers the illustrious Madame Chiang Kai-Shek, the redoubtable Winston Churchill and the great enigma, Joseph Stalin.

● I WISH I HAD BEEN IN WASHINGTON for that Ickes press conference, when he told the world at large and the president in particular what he thought. Talked to Lyle Wilson on the train about Ickes. Lyle said there never had been such a day in Washington as the Ickes resignation day.

Wilson said, speaking of explaining the capital to the people who don't live here, "You simply couldn't do the Truman-Ickes row justice. It was beyond description. I wouldn't have missed it for a lifetime of every-day living."

Of course there is no place like Washington. No place in which there are such shows, such explosions of personality.

● A CORRESPONDENT, L. S. JOHNSON, writes: "If you will permit me to say so, I am getting fed up the way you writers talk about Communism. Certainly I'm against Communism. But I don't expect to win any converts to my cause simply by saying over and over again, 'Communism is terrible... Communism will destroy the world.'"

"In order to convince people you've got to prove your case. Why does not it ever occur to you and your kind that the way to stop Communism is to show the evils it has brought about and to forecast the greater evils it will cause to happen?"

Zelpha Crites Weds Harold Smith At Her Stoutsville Home

Before the fern banked altar that was lighted with seven-branch candelabra in the living room of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt Crites, Stoutsville, their daughter, Zelpha, was united in marriage with Harold Smith, son of Van Smith, of this city at 4:30 p. m. Sunday afternoon.

The Rev. R. Johnson performed the ceremony in the presence of one immediate families and a few close friends. Mrs. Johnson played the wedding march and also played nuptial music during the service.

For the ceremony, the bride who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a green dress suit with which she combined white accessories and wore a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Vance Crites, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor at the service and wore a navy blue two piece dress with a corsage of red carnations.

Vance Crites acted as best man for Mr. Smith. Immediately after the service a reception was held for about 30 friends of the young couple. A three-tiered wedding cake was cut by the bride and groom.

The bride, who is a graduate of the Stoutsville high school, is employed at the L. M. Butch Company, jewelers, this city. Mr. Smith was graduated from the Circleville high school in 1940 and is employed at the Western Electric company, Columbus. He was recently discharged from Army service.

For the present they are living with the bride's parents.

To clean lamp bases, after dusting, apply a thin coat of wax with a soft, dry cloth. Let the wax stand for a minute or two, then rub off with another soft, dry cloth. Do not use a liquid furniture polish on a metal lamp base, as it might take off the lacquer finish.

To remove water spots from mohair furniture, sponge the entire panel on which the spots appear with a cold, slightly wet cloth. After the fabric has dried, sponge the whole area with a cloth dampened with a good dry cleaning fluid. It is good to occasionally steam mohair. If the fabric has pile, spread a damp cloth over the area and touch it very lightly with a hot iron. While it is still damp, brush up the pile with a whisk broom of medium stiffness.

LOOT GIVES CLUE

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 26—City police recently were on the lookout for what they thought must be a "family man." B. H. Kemp, Nashville, reported the following missing from his parked car: one mackinaw, two pairs of boys' overalls and a dozen diapers.

In 1873, at Alliance, O., a rolling mill company, headed by John Hunter, was employing 440 persons.

FILIBUSTERING isn't what it used to be, Grandpappy Jenkins says. But he doesn't know where to place the blame—or, rather, the credit.

County Pays Bounty On 178 Foxes In Extermination Drive

PICKAWAY TOPS TOWNSHIPS IN NUMBER KILLED

$534 Of $600 Appropriated Already Spent; Patrick Leads Hunters

Forty foxes, the largest number killed in any township, were killed in Pickaway township during 1946, bounty records in the sheriff's office reveal.

Bounties have been paid for 178 foxes killed so far in 1946 in Pickaway county by 42 hunters. Payment of the bounties, totaling $534, leaves only $66 of the $600 appropriated by the county commissioners for fox bounties this year. The commissioners have indicated that they will make another appropriation when the present one is exhausted.

30 Bagged In Wayne
Next to Pickaway township, the most foxes have been killed in Wayne township, where 30 of the pests have met their death this year. Foxes have been bagged in every township, except Circleville township.

The number of foxes killed in other townships are as follows: Scioto, 24; Salt Creek, 17; Walnut, 17; Darby, 15; Jackson, 14; Perry, 10; Washington, 9; Harrison, 4; Madison, 4; Muhlenberg, 1; Deer Creek, 1; and Monroe, 1.

George Patrick, Route 3, Circleville, is still leading in the race for the 1946 fox-killing championship. He has added five foxes in the last two weeks to bring his total to 30 foxes killed this year. Walter Richards, Route 4, Circleville, is running Patrick a close race. Richards has added 9 foxes in the last two weeks to bring his total to 21.

Hunters' Records
Patrick and Richards and the following hunters have claimed bounties for a total of 35 foxes in the last two weeks: S. D. McFarland, Route 1, Orient, 5; Floyd Ginther, Route 1, Kingston, 4; John Hooks, Route 1, New Holland, 2; Raymond Paxton, Route 3, Circleville, 2; Marvin Nungesser, Route 1, Kingston, 2; Wilbur Nungesser, Route 1, Kingston, 2; Richard Hudson, Route 2, Ashville, 1; Walter Ebert, Route 4, Circleville, 1; and Charles H. Smith, East Ringgold, 1.

Standings in the race for the 1946 fox-killing championship are as follows: George Patrick, 30; Walter Richards, 21; Homer Patrick, 9; Richard Hudson, 9; Marvin Nungesser, 8; Tom Burgett, 8; Floyd Ginther, 8; John Hooks, 7; Wilbur Nungesser, 7; S. D. McFarland, 7; Oscar Snyder, 6; Charles H. Smith, 6; and Emerson Brown, 6. Other hunters have bagged less than five foxes each.

2 COUNTY FIVES BOOKED TONIGHT AT WESTERVILLE

Two strong county teams will go into action at the Central District Class B Tournament in the Otterbein College gym at Westerville Wednesday night. New Holland will oppose London at 6 p. m. and Ashville will face Marion St. Mary at 7 p. m.

In the first round Tuesday night, Liberty Union lambasted Hyatts, 56 to 24. Danville edged Pataskala, 41-39. Newark St. Francis nosed out Marengo, 36-32, and Grove City trampled Union, 54-13.

Miss Rose Murray, Now 75, Holds Job, Aids Red Cross

Miss Rose Murray, 75-year-old former Circleville resident, is now serving actively as secretary of St. Mary's Hospital at Tucson, Ariz., where she also takes part in Red Cross activities in that city.

After living in Circleville for a number of years Miss Murray went to California more than 20 years ago. In addition to her work at San Francisco as a court stenographer Miss Murray gained recognition for her indefatigable services as a volunteer Red Cross worker. For several years she lived at Berkeley.

Miss Murray returned to Circleville several years ago and resumed her duties as court stenographer in Pickaway county courts. A little less than two years ago she again took her departure from Circleville and located in Tucson.

On several occasions Miss Murray planned to retire but with more than half a century of taking shorthand notes she found retirement too dull. Approximately 20 years ago she became the first secretary of the Legal Aid Society at San Francisco.

Miss Murray is remembered by a host of friends in Circleville and she is especially remembered by members of the legal profession for her work as court reporter.

We hope Mother Nature doesn't carry the joke too far. An apple tree sprouting pumpkins would be a downright menace.
